

Mozambique Marine Conservation and Community project

Achievements made year after year;

2007 Identified 13 new whale sharks and 7 manta rays never before recorded in Mozambique

In 2008 the Scott Wilson group built a school for 200 children in Tofo Mozambique, not only did they fund the project with a £25,000 donation, but 43 members of their staff volunteered a month of their time to build the school - incredible!

Before

Tofo desperately needed school facilities. The children were studying on a dusty cement floor with grass walls. They had no desks, chairs, books, bags or pens. The Scott Wilson group decided they could make a difference - through improving the educational environment and giving them a school they can be proud of. They worked alongside local people for their children's future, whilst also providing a building available for community facilities outside the school hours.

Why the Scott Wilson Group got involved

"This project will give me the opportunity to spend a complete month in an area that will allow me to experience its culture and life style not just as a tourist."

Jack Symmons. "This is a brilliant opportunity to make a tangible difference in an area that requires a facility." Diane Riley. This project, for around £100 a child didn't just give the gift of education, it gave these children the opportunity to raise themselves and their families out of poverty, giving hope to an entire community.
